

Social Media Policy

1. Introduction

Boxing Canada realizes that there are many benefits to social media. We recognize it allows us to increase communication between and among our members (i.e. athletes, coaches, officials, volunteers, parents and employees) and partners. It can advance the promotion for a positive profile of our sport and star athletes to a large audience.

Social media provides members the opportunity to raise the profile of our sport and help them connect with fans of the sport. Boxing Canada encourages and supports members to take part in social media to contribute to discussions and share their positive experiences. We recognize the importance of online conversation and respect the right to freedom of speech and social media serving for personal use as well.

Boxing Canada is committed to a sport and work environment that supports responsible and respectful use of social media by our members. All postings made to social media are treated as 'public,' comparable to comments or actions in a public forum or in front of a camera or microphone.

This policy describes Boxing Canada's commitment to providing a positive and respectful platform for our members and the public. This policy should be read in conjunction with Boxing Canada's Social Media Guidelines for Members, which provides the mechanism for our organization to deal with what we consider damaging messages quickly, responsively and effectively.

2. Policy Details

A) Scope

This policy applies to all members of Boxing Canada including, but not limited to, their online behavior when serving as a representative of Boxing Canada and when participating as a sole individual.

This policy covers social media messaging and actions that fall within Boxing Canada's organizational jurisdiction and includes, but is not restricted to, protection of individuals, our brand, our sport profile, and relationships with our sponsors and funding partners.

This policy refers to the use of a broad sweep of online activity including, but not limited to, social, professional and multi-media networks and live-blogging tools. It includes posts (including words, pictures and videos), shares and tweets initiated by an individual, as well as re-tweeting or reposting someone else's comment(s) to one's own social media account. Organizations and individuals are frequently relearning that posting something on social media ensures the near-permanent existence of that material, thus we need to be especially careful about our social media use.
